RNWMP: Bride For Joel (Mail Order Mounties Book 4)

Synopsis

Evelyn Murray, daughter of Inspector Harold Murray and sister of four constables, has always known that she would never marry anyone but a Mountie. No other man could possibly compare to those tall, strong, noble men in red serge. When matchmaker Hazel Hughes approaches her about traveling to a tiny place called Squirrel Ridge Junction to marry Corporal Joel Clark, she leaps at the chance, believing that he'll be the man of her dreams. Joel Clark never thought much about marriage until his friend Theodore Hughes found himself a bride . . . er, until a bride was found for him. Suddenly, he realizes that a wife might make his life a little sweeter, and he agrees to be matched up with a young lady Miss Hazel finds suitable. When Evelyn Murray arrives on the scene, however, he knows he's bitten off more than he can chew. It's going to take one wily old lady and one slow old moose to bring these two to their senses before that train heads back to Ottawa.

Mail-Order Mounties is a multi-author series set in Canada during the early 1900s. Join authors Kirsten Osbourne, Kay P. Dawson, Cassie Hayes, and Amelia Adams as they bring you stories of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police and the mail-order brides who love them.

Monty strikes again! Trust this moose to be in the right place at the wrong time and yet it all comes together in the end! And the adventures continue.

This book was about Evelyn and Joel. When they first met they got off on the wrong foot. They soon realized they were both wrong. It was a good read.

I highly recommend this book and this series. Heartwarming storyline with mystery, troubles, humor and love. Happy

Love it.

Evelyn is the daughter and sister to Mounties, and she has always known she would marry a Mountie. When Miss Hazel asks Evelyn to accompany her to Squirrel's Ridge Junction to meet and marry Joel Clark, a Corporal in the RNWMP, Evelyn is ecstatic. Arriving to nobody to meet the train, Evelyn finds her way to Joel's office. They don't get off to a very good start, so Evelyn decides to ask an elderly couple on the street if she can stay with them. Both are hard of hearing, and confuse what Evelyn says quite often....plus their housekeeping leaves much to be desired, so Evelyn has her work cut out for her with them quite literally. Joel and Evelyn keep rubbing each other the wrong way and saying all the wrong things, but a tragedy helps to bring them together, along with advice from Miss Hazel who is staying the week to wait for the train back home. Monty the Moose plays a big part in this story, as he has in each story of the RNWMP series, and it was fun to read about him again. Since this was the last of the mounties to marry, I was sad until I read about Miss Hazel getting a missive from other mounties in the Yukon territory who also wish to have wives, so I look forward to more stories set in Canada. This is a very enjoyable series.
