I've read many of Rivers fiction books and am a great fan. This creative non-fiction book is my kind of book. I love nature and enjoy every moment in woods, mountains, or in my back yard. This is an excellent choice for a birthday or Christmas gift. The photographs are exceptional, the layout looks royal. Pages are covered in fancy edging. A must gift book!

Earth Psalms by author Francine Rivers is a breathtakingly beautiful book. Not only are the pictures lovely but the devotions written to accompany them are beautifully inspiring. This hardcover book published by Tyndale is one of the nicest I have seen. Author Rivers includes bible verses, poems, songs, quotes and inspiring devotionals to inspire and encourage readers. She has included 52 devotions so readers could read one a week for a year. The message in each one is designed to be powerful enough to ponder and apply throughout the week. This book is extremely well written, just like Ms. Rivers' novels are. The message is clear and heartfelt. It is well planned and organized. Each devotion is four pages and has beautiful pictures to go along with it. Ms. Rivers includes her personal message or how she relates to it. I loved that personal touch. There is also a section to help readers apply it to their lives and a prayer to encourage a closer Walk with God. The topics were inspired by nature, plants and animals. It gives glory to God for His creations. Little facts about the subjects in the pictures are sprinkled throughout the book as are portions of hymns. After reading a part of a hymn I would want to sing it throughout the day. This is a small but mighty book. It is a devotional but could definitely be left on the coffee table. It would make a nice weekly book club or women's study. This would be a lovely birthday, Valentine, Easter, or any time gift. More importantly it is a wonderful devotional, and I highly recommend this book. I rated it a 5 out of 5 stars. I was given the book by Book Fun (The Book Club Network) and this is my honest review.

Francine Rivers, is as always, thought provoking and encouraging. I just love everything she writes and this devotional is just as wonderful as I would expect. It is not just well written but is also a very beautiful book. I don't think you'll be sorry you purchased this inspirational devotional book.

Absolutely AMAZING! As someone who sees God in nature, I absolutely love this devotional. I gave a copy to a friend and to my sister and they loved it too! The book is filled with beautiful weekly devotions that will give you an insight to nature and God's Word (reflect, apply and connect with God) and the photographs are stunning. I highly recommend it!

It was a gift for my Sister, she said she liked it, sorry I can't write a review

LOVE this devotional!!! If you are a nature lover this is a must have. We keep it at our cottage and read with friends in the mornings and everyone seems to enjoy the quick informative devotion and reflection.

Exactly what I needed to reflect on the Glory of God in His nature. Your time with God will fill up with His presence while reflecting in His truth. It's refreshing and gives a nice break when you need one among the business of life.

Beautiful photography and words of wisdom from one of the best authors in the Christian writing industry. Francine shares insights from nature to reflect God's voice in the smallest of ways but with a big message.
