We LOVE Story of the World! My 9 & 6 year old homeschooled children ask for History everyday. We are just 3 weeks into our school year and have completed 7 chapters of history. AND this is our second time through all 4 volumes.

Excellent books that are well written for a broad audience. This series captures my child's interest and she's always ready for more.

We LOVE the chapter quizzes that correspond with the reading. Our kids have to turn in the quizzes at the end of the week. The scores are a big indicator if they did their week's reading.

Love the ease of this curriculum. I am able to let the children go at their own pace to read these books. Then I use these tests to check and see if they are "getting it" as well as doing our own timeline to reinforce. It's something simple to have to put in their portfolios at the end of the year!

Our homeschool family used Susan Wise Bauer's The Story of the World history books to study the Ancient Times and enjoyed the format and projects. The kids couldn't wait to get started on this one. This author does a great job of making history exciting and interesting. I would recommend this to anyone.

Loved the last book, love this one. Its for like k-5 but there are activities and additional reading offered for older children.

This is a great history program. It presents a good variety of information in a fun format. It allows kids of all ages to learn to their level.

best history book ever! very thorough and concise with the important information. a must have in every homeschool education and a must read for every parent interested in learning history again the correct way.
