The book places increased emphasis on use of the graphing calculator, and in line with New York State Regents core curriculum, it shows how given problems can be solved in several different ways. The author also includes new Regents question types dealing, for instance, with motion problems and mathematical systems defined by tables. New contextualized word problems further enhance the presentation. The totally rewritten chapter on problem-solving offers students a core set of strategies that apply to a variety of curriculum-related exercises. ## Customer Reviews

Barron's Review Course Series An ideal companion to high school math textbooks, this major new revision covers all Math A topics prescribed by the New York State Board of Regents.

I have this book and found it pretty helpful with studying for Math A. The book has a ton of practice questions which were very similar in style to the regents questions. My teacher had this book and many times the same questions would come up on tests that I had already done while studying. The explanations of things were pretty wordy and kind of confusing, so I wouldn't buy this book if you want things better explained to you. But I would say it's definitely worth buying this book for all the practice questions. I passed the Math A regents in January 2003 with a 90, thanks to a lot of the practice in this book.

Teachers recommend this for NY state Regents prep in Math A. Is updated to cover curriculum changes. Very helpful study aid.

I just purchased both the "Let's Review: Math A" and "Let's Review: Math B" books and found two errors within the answer section for the first "Check Your Understanding" problems within the Math A book. I have contacted Barron's hoping they can/will provide insight to the discrepancies. I am very concerned about moving forward with either book as I now do not trust the integrity of the material.
