Jim Davis was born on July 28, 1945, in Marion, Indiana. He later attended Ball State University in Muncie, Indiana, where he distinguished himself by earning one of the lowest cumulative grade point averages in the history of the university. (Incidentally, a fellow classmate named David Letterman earned the other). The Garfield strip was born on June 19, 1978, syndicated in forty-one U.S. newspapers. Today itÃ¢â€šâ€s syndicated in more than 2,100 newspapers worldwide with more than 200 million readers, leading Guinness World Records to name Garfield The Most Widely Syndicated Comic Strip in the World. Davis has had many successes with Garfield, including four Emmy Awards for Outstanding Animated Program and induction into the Licensing Hall of Fame (1998), but his most prized awards are from his peers in the National Cartoonist Society: Best Humor Strip (1981 and 1985), the Elzie Segar Award (1990), and the coveted Reuben Award (1990) for overall excellence in cartooning.

This book is a really great Garfield book and it is so funny I could not put it down.

The "Garfield Goes to His Happy Place" book was, as always, a delight to read and enjoy. These books have brought much humor and enjoyment to both my husband and myself. I would highly recommend this series of books to anyone who enjoys the Garfield comics in the daily newspapers or who has enjoyed the Garfield movies.

I always have loved Garfield, and I love the new book one thing that I don't like is that the author used scenes from other books and put it into this book

Not as funny as I was expecting.

Its Garfield and Jim Davis - is there anything really more to say? You don't have to own a cat to appreciate the great humor, whimsy and joy of reading Garfield Garfield is and always will be one of my favorites Thank you Mr Davis

It's Garfield, it's funny. What else needs to be said?

What can you say about Garfield. He's the fat cat that loves lasagne' and tormenting his faithful companion Odie. I don't believe we'll ever tire of reading about his next lazy day adventure.

#funny death machine ooh ooh gulp Garfield!!! danced sporting goods stores are not going out with a while tonic wetsuits
